Call Resort at Squaw Creek Reservations to add any of the paid events to a room reservation 530-583-6300

July 10-12, 2009: Fly Fishing Fest

Most events are complimentary to guests. The On-Water Clinic on Saturday, July 11 has a charge of $50 per person ages 16 and up. The value of an on water clinic is $250.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception, equipment displays, fly tying demo, casting & technique clinic, on-water clinic on the Truckee near Glenshire. The guest who catches the biggest trout during the on-water clinic receives a special prize!

July 17-19, 2009: Mountain Buddies Summer Camp

This weekend is sold to guests as a package for the price of $99 per kid. The hourly breakdown (compare this with what a babysitter would cost plus what meals would cost) is less than $6 an hour.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception, Saturday's session is from 9 am - 10 pm, tie-dye, crafts, scavenger hunt, trip to High Camp, swimming and watersliding, Glow-in-the-dark Capture-the-Flag, s'mores and movies. Kids receive dinner on Friday, as well as lunch, dinner & snack on Saturday. On Sunday, Buddy Bear will join diners having breakfast in Six Peaks Grille. This meal is not part of the package.

July 24-26 & Aug. 21-23, 2009: Yoga and Wellness

All of the events are complimentary to guests with the exception of Chef's Tables in Six Peaks Grille. Guests should be encouraged to use the down-time to schedule spa appointments for their own wellness and to receive some TLC.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception, yoga sessions, golf stretch sessions, guided runs, skin care and sun seminars by experts. People are working hard these days and need to make time for taking care of themselves.

July 31-Aug. 2, 2009: Summer Passions

This weekend is sold for the recently reduced price of $75 per person plus tax. Great value for the price! Cash bar on Saturday and Chef's Tables are additional.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception pairing tapas with Mediterranean wines, mimosas and bellinis, winesicles, Mr. Mojito, sangria, summer wines, cooking demos, tastings, Saturday evening wine & cheese reception followed by a movie. We partnered with Chateau Ste. Michelle to take the food and drink pairings to the next level.

August 7-9, 2009: Family Golf Weekend

Most of the events are complimentary to guests. The Saturday evening Glow-Ball tournament costs $10 per person and the Sunday Family tournament costs $45 per adult. Kids play free with adults.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception, mini-golf, long & short game clinics, Glow-Golf 6-hole tournament on Saturday night and family golf tournament with prizes for every participant on Sunday.

Aug. 14-16, 2009: Family Tahoe Outdoor Adventures

Most of the events are complimentary to guests. Tie-dying t-shirts on Friday and kayaking on Saturday have charges. Guests also may attend the bike tour to Lake Tahoe with a regularly priced bike rental.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception and activity sign-ups, dive-in movie, kayaking, hayride with Sara Winnemucca on Saturday, pool volleyball, glow-in-the-dark Capture-the-Flag, Shirley Canyon hike, bike tour to Lake Tahoe and complimentary use of tennis courts, bocce ball & croquet all weekend.

Aug. 28-30: Summer Backyard Barbeque Favorites

This weekend is sold as a room + event package for only $179 per night (plus resort fee and tax) based on double occupancy and a 2-night stay. The Chef's Tables at Six Peaks Grille on Friday and Saturday evenings are not included in the package price.

Highlights: Friday evening welcome reception featuring games & live music, food tastings, wine and food pairings, RSC Magical Chili Cook-off on Saturday, tequila tastings, Family BBQ and line dancing on Saturday, ice-cream & sorbet making and build-your-own Bloody Mary Bar at breakfast in Six Peaks Grille. Featuring the wines of Francis Ford Coppola Winery.
